What Did We Study and Learn This Week

Welcome to our first weekly newsletter. We are just beginning to write about what we are learning and doing in our classroom. We have much to learn about newsletter publication. Hope you enjoy our first issue.

Cummings 2nd graders

We worked on a persuasive talk or debate for "A Rabbit for a Pet". We talked about yes and no reasons. This is the script for one pair.

Isabel: I think a rabbit would make a good pet.

Deni: Rabbits are a lot of work.

Isabel: But I like them because they are soft and fluffy.

Deni: They leave hair everywhere and sometimes they run away.

Isabel: I would care for a rabbit and I like to get exercise.

Deni: You have to feed and water them everyday.

Isabel: I still want a rabbit for a pet.

Math

We talked about skip-counting. Skip counting is when you skip a number as you count.

2,4,6,8,10,12,14

We also practiced addition and subtract facts. We used doubles, counting up and counting down to help us.

Sum is the answer to an addition problem .

Difference is the answer to a subtraction problem.

Science

We learned about living and nonliving. We had to draw a living animal. I drew my pet cat, Oliver. He's real cute. For him to survive, or stay alive, he needs food, water, air and shelter.
